

Mr Harry Baker, a British reservist, and an employee in the Perth Carpet factory, having been sent to the Petawawa camp with the force to take charge of the German prisoners there, has made good in his position, and has been promoted to the rank of sergeant. Mr Baker is a bright, well-behaved man and well deserves the post to which he has attained.—Courier.