

Have Been Paroled.

Two prisoners of war have been paroled from Fort Henry on a bond furnished by a local merchant. The arrangements were made so that they would be given their liberty providing this citizen will make himself responsible for them not leaving the city.