

* PRISONERS OF WAR OUT. *

Left For the United States, Where They Live.

Two prisoners of war at Fort Henry were released on Saturday morning, and left by the Cape Vincent boat to go to their homes in the United States. Some time ago they applied for release, and after full consideration of their cases by the authorities, their request was complied with.