

The 14th Regiment Guard is now comfortably located in their new barracks at Fort Henry. The new quarters are splendidly equipped for warmth and comfort, including shower baths. A piano has been placed in the Recreation Room.

Major Mills in command of the 14th Regiment, is looking up members of the regiment that are not yet in khaki, and would be glad to take on for guard duty a number of men to relieve some who are trained and ready to join the overseas units.
