

Another Spy Scare.

—QUINCY, Aug. 18.—Spy stories are current throughout the country and the island of Orleans, where a naval station has been established, is having its share of the spy scares. Since the authorities have taken precautionary measures no fewer than eight spies have been seen on the island, the latest suspect being reported yesterday as taking plans and making drawings.

Inlanders say they saw the man at work, but the authorities refused to talk on the matter.
