

DID GERMANS ESCAPE?

Story Is They Dug Tunnel Out From Beauport Internment Camp.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Quebec, March 31. — Although the local military authorities do not admit the story, considerable credit is given here to the story that two German alien enemies escaped, some days ago, from the Beauport Armory by digging a tunnel from under the cellar out into the open country some hundred feet from the outposts and barbed wire entanglements surrounding the internment camp.
