(Special Despatch to The Globe.)

Peterboro', Sept. 14.—Rev. James Rollins, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, appeared in his pulpit on Sunday in the khaki uniform of honorary Lieutenant, and conducted services and preached in that garb. He has volunteered for overseas service, and during the week is in training in Kingston for Lieutenant, not as chaplain, but as an officer in the fighting ranks. He has done much effective speaking locally in favor of recruiting.
