

ESCAPE OF PRISONERS WAS FACILITATED?

Senator Cloran's Charges Re- garding Internment Camp at Amherst, N.S.

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)

Ottawa, March 2.—In moving in the Senate to-day for papers in connection with the escape last fall of German prisoners from the internment camp at Amherst, N.S., Senator Cloran declared that their escape was facilitated by the Commandant of the camp. "It is bad enough," declared the Senator, "to send our flesh and blood to fight the enemy in a foreign country without being betrayed at home." He added that he had been given to understand that the officers who allowed the Germans to escape "were now in the penitentiary or in their graves."

It was not encouraging, he declared, to see British manufacturers sentenced for aiding the enemy and British labor organizations refusing to make bullets, refusing to enlist and refusing to go to war. The Canadian Government should see to it that "there are no traitors in our midst and that the enemy is not replenished from our own internment camps."
