

Eleven alien prisoners were brought in to the internment prison on Monday, among them being Baron von Luttorwitz and Dr. Grubert whose noisy celebration in Vancouver of a prematurely announced German victory created a good deal of comment. It is said, however, that this was not the real reason for the arrest of these two prominent Germans, as the Ottawa authorities have information of other activities on their part, and regard them as particularly dangerous men. When arrested in Vancouver the Baron is reported to have said to the Chief of Police of Point Grey: "Why bother about interning us? The war will be over in October. We shall be on our way to Germany, while you Canadians will be our prisoners." On Wednesday 11 other aliens were brought in from Vancouver.
