

The local soldier boys forming part of the internment camp guard left for their quarters at Castle in good time to get the experience of what a real rain storm is like under canvas. The bulk of everything and everyone will be ready to go straight ahead by the end of this week or beginning of next.