

CANADA WILL DEPORT DEPENDENT IMMIGRANTS

Government Besieged By For- eigners Out Of Work

MANY ARE PENNILESS

WANT EMPLOYMENT OR TRANS- PORTATION HOME.

Bread Line at Ottawa City Hall—
They Believed Immigrant Literature, and Came to This Land of Opportunity.

Ottawa, July 3.—Conditions of un-employment in Canada were brought sharply home to the government yesterday afternoon, when some four or five hundred of unskilled laborers, mostly Ruthenians and Ukrainians, assembled outside the immigration offices and asked for work, or for assistance of some kind. They said that they had come to Canada believing the government's immigration literature of recent years that this was the land of opportunity for all. They have been out of work in the capital now for months, and are penniless. If work was not to be had they wanted transportation back to their homes in Central and Eastern Europe, where the bulk of the immigration has come since the present government assumed office.

The reply of the departmental officials was that under existing conditions, the government could do little toward finding employment, except in the case of those who were fitted for and wanted to work as farm laborers. Efforts are being made by the department to send as many of the men out on the farms as can be accommodated there under the somewhat restricted present demand. Meanwhile there has been a bread line at the city hall for the past few mornings and free food has been supplied by the civic charity office to a limited extent.

In view of similar conditions existing in Montreal, Winnipeg and other cities, the department is taking steps to arrange for the deportation of all immigrants who have become charges on public charities. Under the immigration act any immigrant who becomes a public charge within three years of his arrival in Canada may be sent back to his home at the expense of the transportation company which brought him out. If municipal authorities request the deportation of any of those now in the civic bread lines, the department will look after their deportation.

KEEPS HER HUSBAND.

New York, July 2.—Testimony given before a referee in bankruptcy by Howard Hull, whose wife in Miss Margaret Anglin, actress, revealed that Mr. Hull has been supported by his wife since the time of their marriage three years ago. Mr. Hull, admitted frankly and without hesitation that Miss Anglin furnished their house, paid his car fare, bought his clothing and provided him with all his spending money. He also admitted that he did not work, and had at the present time no means of livelihood except that provided by his wife.

PRESIDENT IS PROUD OF HIS DELEGATES

To The Mexican Peace Conference At Niagara Falls—He Tells Them So.

Washington, D.C., July 3.—"I am intensely proud of the way you represented your country," was President Wilson's salutation in the White House corridor to-day to Justice Lamar and Frederick Lehman, United States commissioners to the mediation conference, who arrived from Niagara Falls, Ont. to-day. They said the conference would be resumed as soon as the warring Mexico factions could be brought together on a plan of provisional government.

Clamoring for Vote.

Stockholm, July 3.—The Swedish parliament received a monster petition signed by 350,000 women in favor of women's enfranchisement. A bill having that object is now in the diet and has the support of the entire liberal party, but it is expected that the first chamber will reject it.

Mann For Presidency

Washington July 3.—Representative James R. Mann, of Chicago, republican leader of the House of Representatives, is being groomed by republican leaders in Washington for the presidential nomination in 1916, according to cloakroom gossip.
