

More Pro-German Papers Are Barred

Order-in-Council Explains Regulation Protecting Homesteaders Who Enlist

From a Staff Reporter.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Notice is given of an application in this week's Canadian Gazette by Lena Pearl Potter, of Toronto, for a divorce from her husband, Percy Bernard Potter, commercial traveller, of Toronto.

Two more German - American newspapers have been barred from the Canadian mails. They are The Illinois Staats-Zeitung and Abendpost, both published in Chicago.

An Order-in-Council has been passed explaining the order which was passed protecting all homesteaders who go on active service. The order is declared "To mean and to apply to any body or force of men who have served, or are now serving, or who may hereafter serve with any of the forces of Great Britain or any of the allies of Great Britain in the present war with Germany and Austria, or with any of the allies of these countries, whether such body or force is of a military or of a naval character, and also to apply to and include any member of any such body or force, whether he is a British subject by birth or naturalized citizen or is an alien."
