

Police Unearth Twenty-Four Sticks Of Dynamite in Ground; May Have Been Intended to Blow Up Bridge

Explosive and Twenty Feet of Fuse Found Near Residence of Lieut.-Governor Bulyea—Germans West of Edmonton Under Suspicion

Twenty-four sticks of dynamite hidden in the ground, one mile west of the high level bridge has led the city police to believe that some person intended doing a great deal of harm to some particular part of the city. Chief Hill has declared he believed that the dynamite had been placed there with the intention of carrying it down to the bridge and blowing the huge structure to pieces. Inspector Shute, in his report to the chief, said: "There is a large colony of Germans west of Edmonton and I am of the opinion that some of these Germans were planning to blow up the high level bridge."

The twenty-four sticks of dynamite, with caps and twenty feet of fuse, were found by J. A. Benson as he was hunting for rabbits about three days ago. He immediately notified the city police and the chief of police has had three men watching the spot for three nights and three days. It was hoped that the persons concerned would put in an appearance and their arrests would follow. However, none turned up.

Each stick contained forty per cent. of dynamite and two of them would be sufficient to blow up the bridge. They were found on the south side of the river and directly opposite the residence of the lieutenant-governor. The hole in the ground where the explosive was hidden, was newly dug and this leads the police to believe that it was placed there recently and that the plan of the owner was to be carried out in a few days. The dynamite is now in the possession of the police.
