

Sent to Registrar.

"He's been getting his meals at the House of Industry and won't work for them. He refuses to break stones and incites the others not to work. He claims to be a Socialist." Such was the testimony the police offered against Demetrus Posvok, an Austrian, who has been living an idle life at the expense of the city.

Posvok had not registered, and so was sent over to the Registrar to be dealt with.
