

AUSTRIAN RESERVISTS BOLT FOR FREEDOM

Bannerman, Man., Feb. 15—Two Austrian reservists who broke parole at Brandon made a desperate effort to get across the international boundary, just south of here, on Friday. The men came from Brandon on the early morning train and when it was slowing up they jumped and made a dash towards the States. One of the men was promptly captured, but the other got away through the bluffs. Dominion Veterinary Inspector Braund, Customs Officer Coulter and C. C. Simpson gave chase and the fugitive was finally caught in Mr. Flagart's stable, hiding in the manger, where he had covered himself with hay.
