

Two Austrian prisoners of war at camp Kapuskasing, in northern Ontario, are proving of interest to the Toronto soldiers guarding the 400 odd prisoners there. Both are declared to be mentally deficient. One thinks he is the Lord, while the other is continually escaping only to return shortly afterwards.