

The mangled remains of an unidentified German, supposed to be a spy, was found in the Grand Trunk yards at Niagara Falls, last Thursday. In his pockets were found papers giving the movements of Canadian troops, also an Austrian and a Russian passport.