

War Prisoners Wanted Teeth Pulled Out

Capt. S. H. Simpson, dental surgeon at Harrielfield camp, made a ~~visit~~ to Fort Henry on Monday afternoon. The prisoners for some reason suddenly developed a mania to have their teeth attended to, preferably extracted. At first Capt-Simpson had three cases, all of a minor nature, to attend to, but before long the room was full. He pulled teeth out of fifteen prisoners, and refused that many more because there was nothing wrong with their grinders.
