

At Port Arthur, Ont., Barney Fell, Fred Volkman, and Benjamin Remshaw, accused of aiding Austrians to escape, were charged with treason and remanded for eight days, bail being refused.