

Thirty-two Austrians have been interned by the military authorities since the last detachment of thirty six was shipped to the concentration camp at Kapuskasing on Wednesday. These men have been picked up for various reasons, some because they would not report, some for trying to get out of the country, and other reasons. Many of them were employed at the Steel Plant.