

An examination of the interned was recently conducted at Fernie and those incapable of military duty were allowed to return to their homes.