

SHOTS FIRED AT GUARDS OF INTERNED GERMANS BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANTS

Special to The Journal.

Kingston, Aug. 4.—Early this morning a sensation was caused at Fort Henry, where all the German prisoners are interned, when shots were fired at the guards from three or four men who are unknown. Luckily none of the guards were hit. One of the guards fired at the men who took to their heels, but did not get them. It was done as a joke. Lieut.-Col. Fee, who is in command of the fort states that it will be a serious one, as the authorities will not tolerate anything of this kind.
