

Captain Robert H. McKay, who saw building of old Fort Henry, opposite Kingston, in the early '30's, and who witnessed the execution of the rebel leader, Von Shultz in the fort in 1839, died at Kingston Saturday afternoon, aged 91 years. Captain McKay sailed on the Great Lakes for many years.