

Four young German prisoners who succeeded in making their escape from the detention camp at Amherst on Friday last were captured while in an open boat in the Bay of Fundy off Point Lepreaux. It is believed they cruised along the coast from the head of the bay and were probably aided by sympathizers, as they seemed to be well clad and were not hungry.