

MINER IS INTERNED.

Mike Lovak, an Austrian miner, employed at the Bankhead mine, has been examined by the authorities at Banff and sent to the internment camp for the duration of the war. Mike, while intoxicated, boasted that he had received an offer of $1,500 from the Austrian consul at Seattle if he would blow up the C.P.R. bridge at Stony Creek.