Conference to be Held Monday— Propose that Interned Aliens Do the Work

The conference between the City Council and the representatives of surrounding municipalities to take up the matter of interned aliens building a road from Sewell to Brandon, has been fixed for next Monday afternoon at half-past two. City Clerk Brown was busy today getting into touch with the reeves of the municipalities interested, and of the four, two have signified their approval of the scheme and promise to be at the conference. A reply from the other two is expected this afternoon. The municipalities interested are Elton, Cornwallis, Norfolk and North Cypress. The two first named have replied that they will be represented. Several farmers who are in the city today, when spoken to on the matter said anything which could be done to improve the roads in the province was always welcome.
