Forces and Their Disposition.

Forces and Their Disposition. Perhaps the most interesting in-formation given is that Canada had actually at the front on March 18 last about 60,000 troops, or practi-cally three complete divisions. Also in England or in passage to England on that date there were 44,000 troops; in Canada there were 134,000 troops; in the West Indies there were the 38th Battalion at Bermuda and a com-pany of the Canadian Royal Garrison Artillery at St. Lucia, while with the British Mediterranean Expeditionary Force there were three Canadian gen-eral hospitals and three Canadian gen-eral hospitals. Out of a total of effectives amounting to 240,000 there were only 60,000 troops actually in Canada, including the permanent force, there were 13,000 men. At the present time, to complete the to-tal authorized army of a half million, a little more than 200,000 men have still to be recruited. Two Divisions in England. Of the 44,000 troops in England

Of the 44,000 troops in England about half are at Shorneliffe as one training division under Brigadler-General J. C. Macdougall, while an-other training division is at Bramshott under Brigadier-General Lord Brooke. Seven Summer Camps.

it is intended, as soon as the wea-ther permits, to concentrate the men in training in Canada at comps for the summer, namely, at London, at Nigara, at Petuwawa (with a detach-ment at Barriefield), at Valcartier (including the Quebec and the Mari-time Province men), at Camp Hughes, Man., at Vernon. B.C., and at the Sarcee Reserve in Alberta, mear Calgary.

The housing of the troops in Can-ada for the winter months cost a to-tal of 853,130, while for the housing of guards, prisoners of war, the es-tablishing of convalescent homes, etc. the cost was $447.135. On the defences at Halifax thero has been an expenditure of approxi-mately $145,000, and on the Quebee defences nearly $90,000. Total Expenditures.
