

Two bohunks, who escaped from the guards while working up the Spray, were re-captured by a bugler of the 103rd. The youngster, armed with a pickaxe handle, escorted them back to the corral.