

The labor situation is becoming so acute that even prisoners committed to Chatham jail in default of payment of fines are being released within a few days, when their fines are paid by farmers and others desirous of securing laborers.