

The American consul inspected the internment camp last Sunday and only one complaint was voiced from the nearly 500 prisoners. One alien complained that a guard had pushed him—out of the way, probably, to avoid stepping on the blighter.