

Charge Alien With Stealing Chickens

When Sazantin Antonuk, an alien, went to report at the alien registry office in the police station basement, Monday, he was arrested, and charged with an offense committed two years ago.

He was taken by the St. Boniface police, in whose district the offense was committed, and will appear for trial Thursday.

It is charged that he broke into a chicken coop in 1914 and stole two chickens.