

NO ALIEN ENEMIES AT OCCIDENT HALL

Caretaker Comments Upon Visit Made There by the Soldiers on Tuesday

Mr. Joseph Riddell, caretaker of Occident Hall, where returned soldiers went to break up a meeting on Tuesday, stated to The Globe yesterday that no rooms in his building are being let to societies of pro-German or pro-Austrian interests. He also said that although soldiers did come to the building on Tuesday morning they had not found any Austrians or Germans there, but merely interrupted a religious service being held by Hebrews.

SERIOUS TO STEAL ELECTRIC CURRENT

Gabriel Kling is Convicted and Comes Up To-day for Sentence

Gabriel Kling, living at 161 Huron street, was charged with stealing current from the Toronto Electric Light Company, from February of this year to June, by tapping the wires near the meter. Kling claimed that he knew nothing at all about electricity, but his son is in the electrical business. "It is a strange coincidence, isn't it?" asked Crown Attorney Greer of the son.

"It is a very serious offence, and I find the man guilty. I will think it over and give sentence to-morrow morning," said Judge Coatsworth.

YOUNG JOY RIDERS ARE SENT TO JAIL

Their Youth and Crown At- torney Save Them From a Longer Term

Two youths, Sydney Ball and Theodore Deas, were sentenced to forty days at the Jail Farm yesterday in the Police Court by Judge Coatsworth. The sentence was first put at three months, but on the recommendation of Crown Attorney Greer it was reduced owing to the age of the lads. The charge against Ball was stealing an automobile from J. E. Clements, and another from some person unknown, as the car is still not identified. The Deas lad was charged with stealing one from Hon. W. D. McPherson and another from J. E. Clements.

The boys went for a joy ride in the cars and damaged the cars considerably. A book, belonging to one of the boys, which was left in the car, led to the arrest.
