

Nick Hostentluk and George Schwab residents of Winnipeg, were committed for trial in the police court for seditious utterances. Hostentluk is said to have declared that "when the Germans come to Canada they will hang every man in uniform"; Schwab is supposed to have said that he "would rather see his son dead than in uniform."