

TREAT 'EM ROUGH, HE SAYS

To the Editor of The Daily Star:—

I think it would be proper if the names and numbers of the cars be taken that fail to comply with the request to refrain from using gasoline on Sundays and I am sorry to see so many pro-German people. I don't think they could be called anything else, as they are certainly helping the Hun when they are using their cars on Sunday. Now I don't think the Austrian is to blame as he is doing everything to help his own country that he possibly can and it is up to Canada to stop him. If his car is caught out he should face a firing squad and his car confiscated.
