

The first naturalization to a German since the end of the war was granted by a county judge at Dorchester, N.B.